

DEVOTIONAL: SHARING HOPE THROUGH SERVICE

“And do not forget to do good and to share with those in need.”

– HEBREWS 13:16

In today’s fast-paced and complex world, it can be difficult to know how best to make a difference. Yet, as people of faith, we are reminded in Hebrews 13:16 of a simple yet profound call: to do good and to share with those in need. This verse invites us to action, urging us to reflect God’s love through generosity and compassion.

One way we can live out this call is by coming together as a community to assemble CWS Kits. These kits—whether hygiene kits, kids kits, period packs, or cleanup buckets—are not just supplies. They are a tangible expression of God’s love, offering comfort and hope to individuals facing unimaginable challenges.

In 2024 alone, thanks to the generosity of volunteers and donors, CWS distributed 89,506 kits and blankets, bringing relief to communities recovering from disasters and helping families facing poverty. When we participate in this ministry, we may never meet the recipients of these kits, but we can trust that God will use our efforts to bring hope and healing to those in need.

Discussion Questions

- When you think about Hebrews 13:16, what does it mean to you to “do good and share with those in need”?
- How can assembling CWS Kits together as a community deepen your understanding of faith in action?
- What other ways can you or your family share God’s love with neighbors near and far?

Prayer:

Gracious and loving God, thank you for calling us to be your hands and feet in the world. As we assemble these kits, we pray for those who will receive them. May they feel your love and know they are not forgotten. Bless our efforts and multiply these gifts to bring hope and healing. Help us to see the opportunities to do good and share with others each day. In Jesus’ name, Amen.
